

THE FUNDING AND DEVELOPMENT OF COMMUNITY UNIVERSITY RESEARCH PARTNERSHIPS IN CANADA

*Evidence-Based Investment in Knowledge,
Engaged Scholarship, Innovation and Action for Canada's Future*

Office of Community-Based Research
University of Victoria
Community Based Research Canada
October 2009

Acknowledgement and Thanks

The Strategic Programs and Joint Initiatives Branch of the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada commissioned this Research Paper.

Dr. Budd Hall, Crystal Tremblay and Rupert Downing on behalf of the Office of Community Based Research at the University of Victoria with support and advice from the Steering Committee of Community Based Research Canada carried out the research.

The Office of Community Based Research at the University of Victoria

The Office of Community Based Research is a university-wide structure to facilitate research partnerships between the university and the community on issues of community priority. It is co-chaired by the Vice-President, Research of UVic and the CEO of the United Way of Greater Victoria. It also serves as the Secretariat for Community Based Research Canada and the Global Alliance on Community-Engaged Research. The web site can be found at www.uvic.ca/ocbr.

Community Based Research Canada

Community Based Research Canada (CBRC) is a network of people and organizations engaged in Community Based Research to meet the needs of people and communities. CBRC came into being through the Community University Expo Conference held in Victoria, BC in May of 2008. At that event a group of Canadian universities, research networks and community organizations launched CBRC. This coalition of Canadian universities, research networks, and community organizations is intended to enable and empower citizens across Canada to access, produce, and put into action knowledge that will make their communities more sustainable, fairer, safer, healthier, and more prosperous. See www.communityresearchcanada.ca

Several readers have helped with the accuracy and depth of the report including: Rosa Venuta and Chadwick Lenise of the Canadian Institutes of Health Research, Janet Walden from the National Science and Engineering Council of Canada, Ted Jackson of Carleton University and Sarah Flicker at York University, Jo-anne Lee and Richard Keeler at University of Victoria, David Phipps at York University, Elizabeth Whitmore from CBRNO, Janet Halliwell from Salt Spring Island, Kathryn Church from Ryerson University, Eric Gall from Science Citoyenne, Jean-marc Fontan from UQUAM, Gisele Yasmeen, Murielle Gagnon and Eric Bastien from SSHRC.

Table of Contents

1.0 Executive Summary	4
2.0 Introduction	10
3.0 Strategic Emergence of Community University Research Partnerships Internationally	13
4.0 Analysis of Funding and Policies to Support Community University Research Partnerships	17
Research Councils	18
Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada	19
Canadian Institutes of Health Research	21
Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada	23
Inter Council Partnerships	24
Other Federal Agencies	25
Governments	27
Provincial-Territorial Governments	29
Non-Governmental Support	31
5.0 Analysis of Community University Partnership Arrangements	34
Institutes and Centres that Support Community Research Partnerships	34
University-wide Partnership Structures	37
Multi-institutional Partnerships	40
International Examples	42
6.0 Conclusions And Recommendations	44
Appendix One: Table of Funders	49
Appendix Two: Table of Community University Research Partnerships	59
Appendix Three: References	68